PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Congratulations to the members of the Class of 1936, who have by persistent effort completed the work required for graduation.

Your diploma is evidence of the industry and perseverance you have displayed in reaching the goal for which you started four years ago. However, it should not be considered the key with which you can open the door to worthy attainment.

Your success is guaranteed not by the possession of this diploma or by your ability to do great things, but rather by using for the advancement of mankind whatever abilities you may have, whether they be great or small.

Our illustrious Senior Class was formed four years ago as a typical bunch of green Freshmen. We were a class of 57 in number, full of pep and enthusiasm. The activities of our class were the annual Freshman-Sophomore Party and a play given before the assembly.

The next, our Sophomore year, was more successful. We, of course, were at the age when we thoroughly enjoyed tormenting the life out of the timid Freshmen. This year's activities were the Freshmen-Sophomore Party and the annual Sophomore Weenie Bake.

As Juniors we went in for everything. Several of our class members were student body officers and leaders in the various organizations. Under the direction of Mr. Ackerman, our adviser, we gave the annual Junior Prom. Mr. Ackerman accompanied us on the Junior Picnic to Clear Creek, where we had a most enjoyable time in the rain.

Now we have reached the goal for which we have been working all these school years. We are now Seniors and are nearing our last days in high school. Throughout our school life our class has been a peppy and active bunch, though few in number. We have finally dwindled down to 24, but have lost no pep or interest in the school's activities. We were well represented in clubs, activities, and the student body.

We put on our Senior Play, "Phantom Tiger," a mystery comedy and a sequel to "Tiger House." Our cast was: Erma Lowrie, Dorothy Duncan; Evelyn Hale, Evelyn Dunwoody; Mrs. Murdock, Marcia Story; Tiger Mistress, Elizabeth Meyers; Aunt Sophia, Audrey McFerrin; Oswald Kerins, Errol Carter; Arthur Hale, Robert Welbourn; Sheriff Osgood, Robert Oliphant; Peggy Van Ness, Phyllis Martin; Macintosh, Alwin Miller; Thompson, Hubert Stewart; and Rumba, Theo Park. Mr. McCormick was our able director.

When this book went to press, the Senior Sneak was still a secret; the Baccalaureate Services were scheduled for June 7 and Graduation for June 12; the Valedictorian and Salutatorian had not been chosen.

SENIOR PROPHECY

Who'd have thought when the class of '36 set sail,
That in '50 we'd hear about them such a tale:

Doctor Esther Cardoza has gained much wealth,
By restoring sick people back to good health.
Katherine Phillips weighs over 400 pounds,
Is a Side Show attraction in many big towns.
Annie Putzel, secretary to the governor of Maine,
Gus Callus, the weatherman, tells of the rain.
Clara Nicka, the greatest of all Movie Stars,
Has gained fame from here to the planet of Mars.
Elizabeth Meyers, has discarded all beauxs,
Is an old maid teacher, wearing specks on her nose.
Lena Mieske, now lives near the five Great Lakes,
She catches and charms big reptiles and snakes.
Kenneth Smith designs buildings, both large and small,
As an architect, he does beat them all.
The reverend preacher that leads the prayer,
Is our "Olly" of Old, but without any hair.
Normabel Sutter is a famous flute player,
Phyllis Martin is Chicago's first woman mayor.
Marcia Story, a detective, always wins her case,
She's given many a criminal a very hard chase.
Now being principal of Anderson High School,
George Alward enforces the golden rule.
The great biologist, Effie Smith, disects
Mosquitoes and fireflies and other insects.
Francis Oman, who married a midget man,
Introduced to the world a new pension plan.
Audrey McFerrin, wed a barber last June,
And now she operates a beauty salon.
Good old Theo Parks, trains frisky circus fleas,
For the Glen Spoon Circus, known far overseas.
Alwin Miller, dog catcher in Anderson Town,
Leaves not a dog, but runs them all down.
Bob Welbourn, a deep sea diver of fame,
Throws pearls at mermaids and loves the game.
Evelyn Dunwoody received an education in Rome,
But now in Anderson works in an orpran's home.
Dorothy and Hubert, that steadfast pair,
Were married last fall at the County Fair.

We may have done more, or even done less,
But at least we are anchored at the pier of success.

—LENA MIESKE, '36.

CLASS WILL

I, George Alward, leave the school tickled to be rid of me after all these years.

I, Esther Cardoza, will my shy manners to Carmelita Spears as I am sure she needs them.

I, Gus Callas, leave my slow stuttering talk to all freshmen who talk too fast.

I, Dorothy Duncan, leave my good reputation to Fay Norris in the hope that she won't abuse it.

I, Evelyn Dunwoody, leave my bashfulness to Bob Carter, knowing he can use it.

I, Phyllis Martin, leave my Plymouth to Betty Hays so that she may get to school once in a while on time.

I, Elizabeth Meyers, leave to Burnetta Gery, my flirtatious tendencies.

I, Lena Mieske, will my position as Publicity Manager to Dorothy Moss, hoping she will enjoy it as much as I have.

I, Alwin Miller, bequeath my many girl friends to the next Don Juan to come to school.

I, Audrey McFerrin, will my drawl to Marie Griffith in the hope that it will slow down her speech.

I, Clara Nicka, leave to Barbara Frambes my curly hair so the mirror can have a rest.

I, Robert Oliphant, will to my beloved sister my honorable nickname "Olly."

I, Francis Oman, bestow my bored look on anyone not interested in school.

I, Theo Park, will my baseball suit to Norman Potter if he will grow up.

I, Katheryn Phillips, bequeath my happy smile to the teacher who needs it most.

I, Vera Potter, will my height to Dale McFerrin in hopes that he will be a taller senior than I am.

I, Annie Putzel, leave my ability to get out of gym to any lower classman unable to think up good excuses.

I, Effie Smith, leave my studious attitude in Stenography I to Jane Cobb.

I, Kenneth Smith, leave my ability to chew gum without getting caught to the freshman with the most demerits.

I, Glenn Spoon, will my ability to get through high school to Henry Simonis.

I, Hubert Stewart, will my whiskers to any freshman who thinks he is good enough to grow them.

I, Marcia Story, leave my dearly loved Alma Mater in a state of general disorder for the faculty to straighten out.

The Junior Class, under the direction of Miss Eide, gave the annual Junior Prom in the Anderson High School Gymnasium on March 27, 1936.

The Gymnasium was beautifully decorated to represent a night in old Japan. Cherry blossoms (tied on branches by diligent Junior Class Workers) were scattered around the walls, and Japanese lanterns hung from the ceiling. A large golden dragon was sprawled across the stage curtain, and many Japanese prints (also made by the Juniors) covered the backboards. A miniature bridge and a small garden scene were built in one corner of the hall, and the punch bowl and stand were arranged under an arbor of cherry blossoms in another corner.

A large crowd attended the dance and everyone reported a good time.

Another event to which the Juniors are looking forward is the traditional Junior picnic that is to be held on May 29. At this time the class expects to enjoy an afternoon of swimming, games, and good "eats."

SOPHOMORE CLASS ACTIVITIES

The Sophomore Class of this year is a very large one and has two students on the honor roll. Many Sophomores have entered in various activities and sports, and have shown themselves capable of becoming good Juniors next year.

At the Sophomore-Freshman Party the Sophomores went down to a glorious defeat. However, they were able to rally after the games and contests and to eat as much ice cream as anyone else. Since they were losers they had to pay three-fifths of the expenses.

The next big event in the lives of the Sophomores happened when they stood guard on March 20, while the Freshmen cheerfully (?) cleaned out the "Ditch."

The annual Weenie Bake will be held on May 29, at Cow Creek, where the Sophomores expect to enjoy games and swimming, and the usual ice cream, salad, sandwiches, weenies, buns, etc.

FRESHMAN CLASS ACTIVITIES

A shy, but determined and zippy group made up the 1935-36 Freshman class. Further determination and self-confidence in themselves resulted in a victory over the Sophomores at the Freshman-Sophomore Party.

In the early spring, a customary ditch cleaning day was enjoyed by the Freshmen under the supervision of the "Jolly Sophomores."

This year's Freshmen proved to be very active in leadership and sportsmanship. A large number of the boys helped to make up the basketball and baseball teams. Further success is quite apparent if such a sincere interest in school affairs is maintained. The Freshmen girls maintained the highest merit rating in school.

Later in the year the Freshmen plan a rare publication of the High Views.

This year the A. S. B. put out a new ticket in addition to the regular membership card. This was a Season Ticket which could be bought by members only and which admitted holders to all A. S. B. athletic games.

The Student Body sent ten delegates to the Student Leaders Conference at Chico in November. Later in the year, the A. S. B. entertained with a Christmas program and an operetta, "The Buccaneers." Those who had leading parts in the operetta were Janet Stearman, Alwin Miller, Anges Selland, Herschel Browne, Theo Park, Marcia Story, Leroy Droege, Bob Carter, Katherine Gilmore, and Stella Braddy. Mr. McCormick and Miss Wilcox directed the speaking and singing parts and Miss Lane coached the dancing parts. Mr. Tyler had charge of the scenery and Miss Simmons designed the costumes. Miss Letson had charge of ticket sales.

Each year an ushering committee is appointed to take care of admission to plays and athletic games. Those who served on the committee were Dorothy Duncan, Mayre Oliphant, Bernard Royce, and Marvin Macken.

A constitutional committee was appointed to revise the constitution. Those appointed were: Bob Welbourn, Alwin Miller, Bob Johnston, Katherine Gilmore, and Elizabeth Meyers.

The Social Science classes, directed by Miss Eide sponsored the Assembly programs.

The C. S. F. is the smallest club in the school because the membership is restricted to those who have excellent grades.

Those who belong the second semester are: Dale McFerrin, Stella Braddy, Mayre Oliphant, Dorothy Moss, Richard Manning, Leona Robinson, and Alwin Miller, who is a member of long standing.

Due to an enforced vacation the honor society was unable to attend the Conference in Red Bluff on March 7, 1936; however, they attended a movie in Redding when "Follow the Fleet" was playing. The date for the Annual Picnic has been set for May 15, and all members are looking forward to a delightful swim, and lots of ice cream and cake.

One of the aims of this club is to establish friendly relationships with students of other nations who are studying English. The Anderson High School Chapter, No. 117, has been an incentive to those students who take pride in worth while achievements and high scholastic standing.

The boys, aided by Mr. Tyler, made a Sphinx head from Egyptian corn for the Shasta County booth, and received $50.00 for their organization.

The F. F. A. bid for an ice cream booth at the County Fair and made a considerable profit.

The Ag Ball, the costume dance of the year, was given in the fall in the Gymnasium, which was appropriately decorated with corn husks, pumpkins, etc.

The latest project of the F. F. A. is the building of a shed for the Hammer Mill.

The Ag Club Edition of the High Views was published March 27.

The Ag Boys will go on their annual week-end trip May 22.

Several of the Home Economics girls attended the Annual Chico Convention held in Chico last fall for all of the Home Economics Clubs in the Northern Counties.

During the County Fair the girls had a small candy and gum booth and made some extra money for their organization. Many of the Homemaking projects were exhibited in the County Fair.

February 28, the Home Ec. Club and the Girls' League entertained at a Leap Year Party given in the gymnasium.

The Home Ec. Club is looking forward to serving a Mothers' Day Tea on May 9.

A peppy new adviser, Miss Eide, and an eager group of girls made up this year's Girls' League. The girls spent a joyous year by beginning with a Hi-Jinks and eats, followed by a solemn initiation ceremony. In February, the Girls' League and the Home Ec. Club sponsored a Leap Year Dance, which was a huge success.'

Candy and hot dog sales enabled the club to send some delegates to the Older Girls' Conference at Richardson Springs on March 27 and 28. Those who attended were: Evelyn Dunwoody. Vera Potter, Dorothy Belknap, Katherine Gilmore, and Miss Eide.

Later in the spring the girls plan an all-day hike and a show in Redding.

On the Monday following the last basketball game Coach Ackerman called for baseball recruits and then started looking for practice games.

The Cubs took a bad beating in their first practice game with Shasta, but made up for it in the game with Los Molinos, when they took them, 22 to 6. The boys were now ready to start their league season.

They started out by winning from Los Molinos in a hard fought game, 9 to 8.

They then met Red Bluff on the local diamond where the Spartans took an easy victory of 23 to 0. Rain and sickness had made practice impossible so that the Cubs did not look so good in this game.

The schedule for the rest of the season is:

April	18	Corning
April	24	Durham
May	1	Shasta
May	8	Weaverville

With one victory out of the two games played, Coach Ackerman looks forward to a successful baseball season.

Although there is no G. A. A., girls' sports have been organized so that interclass competition may be held in volleyball, tennis, basketball, and baseball. Each class has a captain and a manager and class yell leaders are on the job during the games.

The following girls were elected to captain and manage the interclass teams: Seniors—Vera Potter, captain; Evelyn Dunwoody, manager. Juniors—Betty Smith, captain; Virginia Humiston, manager. Sophomores—Della Anstead, cap., Fay Norris, manager. Freshmen—Stella Braddy, captain; Angelique McLain, Phoebe Simonis, manager.

The interclass games in basketball were held in March. The Freshman-Sophomore game was played first. Before the Freshmen could get organized the Sophomores had the game won, 15 to 1.

The Junior-Senior game was played next and although the Juniors fought hard the Seniors succeeded in winning the game, 12 to 4.

The interclass championship game was played the following day between the Sophomores and the Seniors. Both teams played good ball, and excitement ran high among the spectators. It was a close game throughout, but the Sophomores finally won. Score, Sophomores 15, Seniors 13.

Interclass games in tennis and baseball will be held later.

The sport girls plan to go to the Chico playday in May.

Workmen were making repairs on wires in the school house one day when Merle Wisecarver wandered in. "What are you doing?" he inquired.

"Installing an electric switch," one of the workmen said.

"Well," concluded Merle, "I don't care, we are moving away from this school anyway."

Glenn Spoon upon entering Story and Bartell's asked for a single spur.

"What use is one spur?" asked Mr. Story.

"Well," replied Glenn, "If I can get one side of the horse to go the other side will have to come with it."

Leroy Droege: "Did you notice how my voice filled the hall at the operetta performance?"

Fred A.: "Yes, in fact I noticed several people leaving to make room for it."

Audrey McFerrin (at the zoo): "Why do those birds stand on one foot?"

Dale: "If they lifted the other they would fall down."

Mr. Harper: "Betty, why do you spell bank with a large B?"

Betty S.: "I thought you said a bank needs a large capital."

Miss Letson: "David, what kind of a noun is the word 'trousers'?"

David Rush: "It's an uncommon noun 'cause it's singular at the top and plural at the bottom."

"A moth lives an awful life," said Joe Alward sadly.

"Why?" asked Evelyn D.

"He has to spend the summer in a fur coat and the winter in a bathing suit," replied Joe.

Miss Lane: "Theo, what three words are most used in the English language?"

Theo P.: "I don't know."

Miss Lane: "Correct."

"How would you like to sign up with me for a life game?" was the way a baseball fan proposed.

"I'm agreeable", replied the girl, "Where's the diamond?"

Joe Alward: "The South Sea Islanders have the same weather all the year round."

Evelyn D.: "Goodness me! How do they open their conversations?"

"Well, Bob Carter," said Mr. Harper who had not seen him for some time, "you are getting to be quite a big boy now aren't you?"

"Yep," replied Bob, "Pop says I'm growing up like the public debts."

Floyed Serpa: "So you were arrested for passing false coins?"

M. Wisecarver: "Gee, no! If I had passed the money I would not have been arrested."

Herschel Browne (to druggist): "Be sure to write plain on those bottles, which is for the horse and which is for me. I don't want anything to happen to my horse before the spring plowing."

Zelanda P.: "And were you little once like I am grandpa?"

Grandfather: "Oh, yes, of course."

Zelanda: "You must have been a scream with those glasses and long whiskers."

Paula C.: "A scientist has discovered that singing warms the blood."

Vera P.: "It's probably right. I have heard singing that made my blood boil."

Phyllis M.: "My car has a 100 mule power motor in it."

Marcia S.: "You mean 100 horse power don't you?"

Phyllis: "No, I don't. It always balks just when I'm in the biggest hurry."

Millie Hess: "If I give you a piece of pie you won't come back again, will you?"

Tramp: "Lady you know your pies better than I do."

Dale McFerrin: "Did you hear about the big fight?"

B. Richards: "No, what was it?"

Dale: "Our cat licked his paw."

Mrs. Carter: "Bob, wake up!"

Bob: "I can't, mother."

Mrs. Carter: "Why can't you?"

Bob: "I ain't asleep."

Betty S.: "At least once in my life I was glad to be down and out!"

Vera P.: "When was that?"

Betty S.: "After my first trip in an airplane."

Miss Eide: "Do you mean to tell me that you cannot name all the Presidents we have had? When I was your age I could name them all."

Herbert F.: "Yes, but there were only 5 or 6 then."

A Chinaman had a tooth ache and phoned a dentist for an appointment.

Doctor: "2:30 alright?"

Chinaman: "Yes, 'tooth hurty' alright. What time do I come?"

Errol C.: "That was a close call, old man. Don't you know you always ought to give a woman driver half the road?"

H. Stewart: "I always try to—as soon as I find out which half the road she wants."

Little Harold, having climbed to the pinnacle of a roof of a very steep shed, lost his footing and began to slide with terrifying speed. "Oh Lord, save me!" he prayed, "Oh Lord, save me! Oh Lord—never mind I've caught on a nail."

Mr. Ackerman: "How much is 5 and 4?"

Olly: "Nine, of course."

Mr. A.: "Very good."

Olly: "Very good? Heck, it's perfect."

Errol Carter: "Will you marry me?"

A. McLain: "Sure—(After 5 minutes of silence)—Why don't you say something?"

Errol: "I've said too much already."
